“Lovely value wine, this. Lifted passionfruit and guava with a cutting limey edge on the nose. The palate shows a sprightly citrus edge with plenty of vibrant fruit. It’s an excellent wine for current drinking.”

“Pale straw hue with an inviting nose of tropical fruit and notes of wet oak. The palate was refreshing and crisp and had a beautiful balance of citrus and melon leading into a generous finish. This Margaret River wine is great value and should be enjoyed with leek risotto and lemon fish or maybe with a gourmet seafood pizza. A perfect summer wine.”

“I actually poured a second glass of this clean, crisp Margaret River savvy blanc made by Cape Mentelle winemaker Robert Mann. The Georgiana is pale straw and has peach blossom aromas. Fresh gooseberry flavour zips onto the front of the palate, green capsicum and lemon curd characters show on the middle palate and flinty acid comes through at the finish.”
