
CAPE MENTELLE 'MARMADUKE' SHIRAZ 2008

THE WINE FRONT, CAMPBELL MATTINSON,
JANUARY 2011

“Spicy, mid-weight, good vibrant colour, not exactly smooth and not exactly rough. It tastes of sweet/sour cherries with sandy/loamy characters. Aromas of jubes and white pepper. In all, I’d call it true to form... Good buying/drinking without being the no-brainer it can be.”

“A largely fruit-driven wine, although the use of large used oak has added some subtle complexity in this shiraz. Rob Mann has also added a small amount of aromatic grenache to add some nice touches to the nose. It’s ripe and juicy with a delicious fresh fruitiness ideal for current drinking.”
