SAUVIGNON BLANC SEMILLON

2011

AUSTRALIAN WINE COMPANION 2013, JAMES HALLIDAY 95 POINTS

“Bright quartz-green; this is the unwooded version of Cape Mentelle’s sauvignon blanc semillon, but show the fruit intensity and complexity that allows the (oaked) Wallcliffe version to succeed so well. Here there is a panoply of aromas and flavours spanning citrus/grapefruit, stone fruit and tropical fruits (whatever you care to mention) sustained by lovely natural acidity.”

THE AUSTRALIAN WINE ANNUAL 2013, JEREMY OLIVER 95 POINTS

“An exemplary Margaret River white blend with exceptional line of flavour and mouthfeel. Punchy aromas of gooseberries, passionfruit, cassis and lime juice backed by suggestions of minerals, chalk and a light grassiness precede a long, evenly paced and juicy palate whose vibrant fruit is underpinned by a talc-like texture. It finishes with freshness, persistence and a tangy acidity. ”

THE WEST AUSTRALIAN WINE GUIDE 2012, RAY JORDAN 94 POINTS

“With all the focus on Cape Mentelle’s big guns, it’s easy to overlook how good they are with this standard Margaret River fare. This is beautiful. It’s precise, fresh and crisp with a fine lingering palate packed with flavour intensity.”

WINE TASTE, TYSON STELZER, OCTOBER 2011 94 POINTS

“Brilliantly crafted blend from an estate now perched on a very high branch of the lofty MR tree. Fruit from the cooler south of the region and a touch of barrel infuse remarkable restraint and calm, effortless, gliding persistence.”
