ANDREW SIDDELL

SENIOR WINEMAKER

Andrew is a true Western Australian local whose lifelong passion for winemaking was ignited during his time in retail. His growing curiosity about the science and artistry behind every bottle motivated him to pursue formal studies at Curtin University, where he graduated in 2004, earning a Bachelor of Science in Viticulture and Oenology.

Throughout a distinguished career spanning more than 20 years, Andrew has taken on senior winemaking roles within the most celebrated wine regions of Western Australia, maintaining a strong focus on the Great Southern and Margaret River. He has also developed a global perspective through international vintage experiences in prestigious wine regions worldwide, including Austria, California, and several seasons in Bordeaux.

His professional philosophy is centered on elegance, balance, and a deep respect for regional and varietal character, seamlessly combining extensive cellar craftsmanship with technical and operational expertise.

When he is not at the winery, Andrew enjoys family life with his wife and young children in Margaret River, a local paradise they proudly call home.
